Registration process as MASCH development partner

We are pleased to welcome you as MASCH development partner.

Within the registration process, our developer support will ask you for your company data, your personal information and the exact kind of requested API services and the information about your customer and the customer project.

Therefore in the first step, we are asking you to register yourself as MASCH development partner through the following URL address:

<https://customer-service.masch.com/en/partnerweb-registration/>

This includes your personal account and login credentials, which you should note down for the future access of the API DOC CENTER.

After fulfilling this procedure, you have to confirm by DOUBLE-OPTIN your account credentials.

In the second step, the developer support team will ask you for signing a Non Disclosure Agreement (NDA), which you will receive by email. While filling in the a second registration form, in which you can explain us, your purpose and your software project, so that the developer support team can decide which API documentation will be necessary for your project work you need to upload also the signed NDA document.

By finalizing your registration process, you will receive an e-mail including Pdf form, in which you will find all necessary information and links to access the MASCH API DOC CENTER and you will get access to our test server environment.

Parallel to this, we will send you back the NDA, signed by our managing director or the VP of customer service.
